was that the building used for dancing, charm. The ladies of the house deserve great praise for the exquisite tasts they

The night could not have been more perfect for the occasion. Waltzing, two-step and polica, alternating with square dancing, was greatly enjoyed and at nidiady and gentleman were provided with night supper was amounced. Each lady and gentleman were provided with numbers, which chose their partners for supper. Then all repaired to the dining rooms, where waited the fraggrant aroms of steaming coffee, hot blacuits, negate pic, cake, fruit and everything that soes to make up a first class Virginia supper. The young men seemed to be much more enthusiastic after supper-but every one knows the old main "that the way to a man's heart be—" increased very much recently. Mrs. E. G. Dowling is building a very pretty dwelling, in which two families will live, on her lot near the Southern depot.

All danced till 5 o'clock, and its each one reluctantly said good bye and left.

The high price of timber has a tendency to check the building of houses to rent, for, as a rule, the income from such property is small, after the insurance, taxes and repairs are paid. The lumber business here is immense. Two firms are engaged in it, who have their offices in town, and employ a large force. Some idea of the immensity of the work done in one of these offices, I was told a few nights ago while at the postoffice by Deputy Postmaster E. L. Toone, that he had just mailed over three hundred letters for B. E. Cogbill, one of these firms, by that night's mail.
